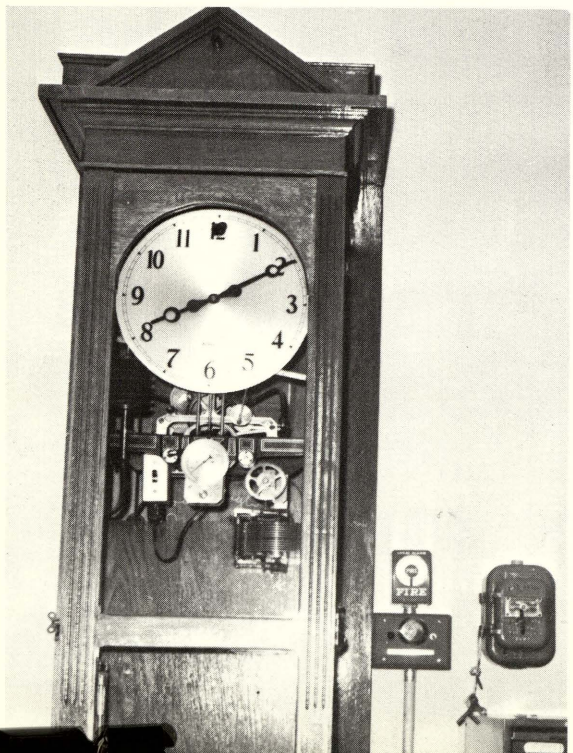
SIGNS OF SOUTH



These are the symbols, the memories, the marks that make South Different from any other school. The trio of front doors, the office clock, Elm and Ottawa, Paul Bunyan, the telephone booth; we all know these. But there is another sign that goes with these pictures; a spirit, a feeling of pride. People also make up a sign of South; they are the emotions within its walls They are SOUTH!

Presiding over the Drama Club this year are: Phil Lang, president; Sue Lippert, vice president; and Trudy Hughes, secretary.

Stage crew, George VanWormer and Ronald Allen, keep stage productions running smoothly.

Speech and drama were sparked with new interest this year with the coming of a new auditorium teacher. Under the direction of Mrs. Palmateer, the Drama Club was reestablished, and a three act play, "Headin' for a Weddin'" was presented to the public. The story of a hillbilly lad who falls in love with a beautiful young socialite, it tells of the hilarious events which follow.

Choirs, Folk Singers, and Madrigals

The driving force behind the successful reputation of South's singing groups is Miss Gase. It was for their own satisfaction as well as for the enjoyment of their audiences that the vocal department performed a variety of musical selections.

They began with the Christmas Concert and caroling through the halls. South was represented by the Madrigals at numerous programs in Saginaw. Then came the spectacular Spring Concert! This annual presentation wrapped up the year and its memories.

Adding that special touch to the music department are the Folk Singers.

The Girls' Choir continues South's tradition of quality singing.

Create Musical Mood

The 1969 Madrigals are: ROW 1: Miss Gase-advisor, Lori Carter-accompaniest, Lynne DeYoung, Nan Ekelof, Bridget McKenna, Debbie Rowland, Cathy Christians, Julie Byron, Connie Sheets-accompaniest. ROW 2: Carol Schultz, Sally Firchau, Susan Sternhagen, Gretchen VanderKlipp, Liza Sobie, Karen Gardstrom, Marsha Molenaar, Linda Koerber. Missing: Margaret VanBenschoten.

This year the voices of the Mixed Choir blend together in song.

"All the sounds of the earth are like music".

Meaningful words expressed by Oscar Hammerstein II; and South's instrumental department, under the direction of R. L. Shumate, went on in the tradition of fine music this '68 - '69 season. One thing that distinguished them from past orchestras and bands was their new uniforms.

The most important of the signs of South for the bands and orchestra was the annual Spring Concert, in which everyone participated.

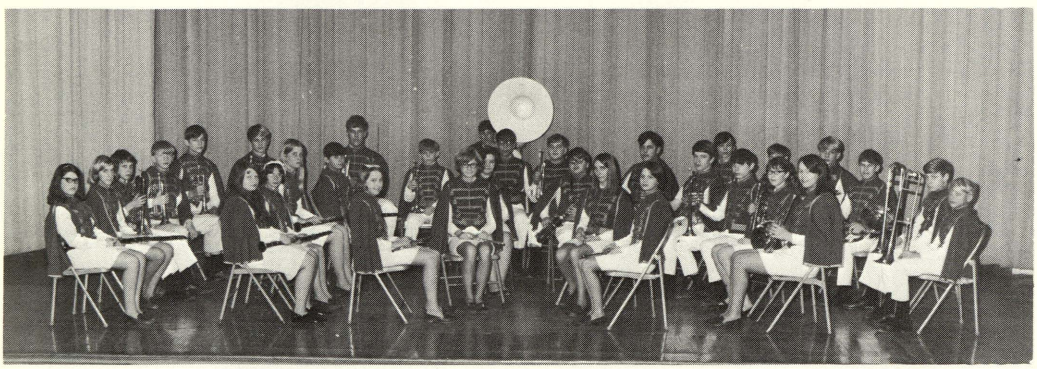
Adding depth to the beginning band with his bass is Mike Rappuhn.

in the annual Spring Concert composed the Senior Band's schedule.

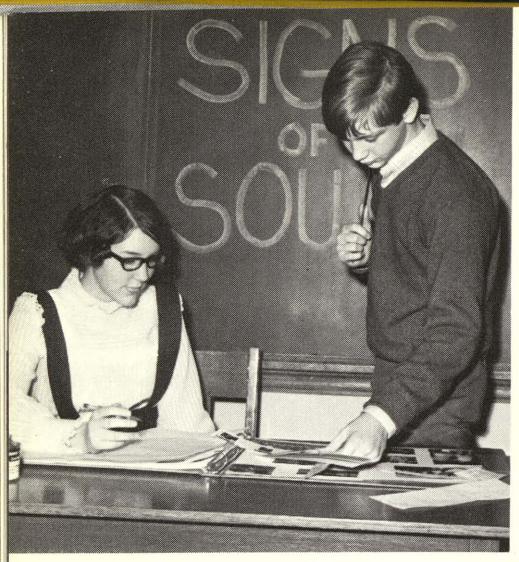
Tom Goodsell and the orchestra, accompanied by David Strouse, produce enjoyable music.

Ability of Bands and Orchestra

The strings of the orchestra add that special touch to the instrumental department.

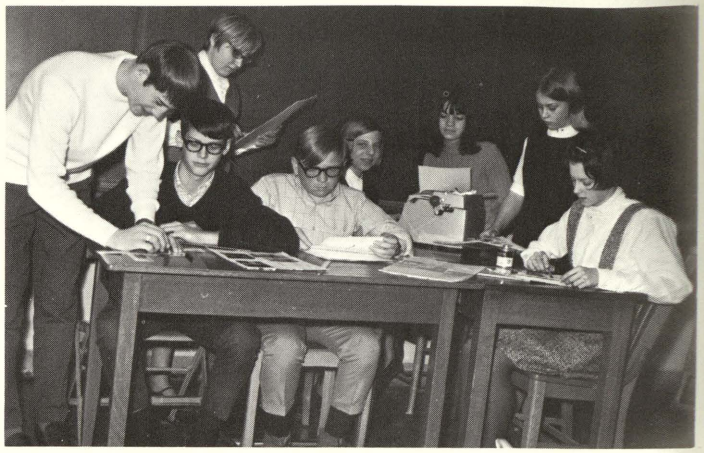


The Junior Band practices hard to become next year's Senior Band.



Gretchen VanderKlipp and Chuck Gasparovic, this year's co-editors, are busy checking yearbook lay-outs.

The 1970 journalism staff, Brad Wilson, Mark Gaertner, Tom Benthien, Jeanne Beeman (standing), Marcia Levinsohn, Angela Kundinger, Carrie Sundeck, and Pam Sheets study the various methods used to produce a yearbook.

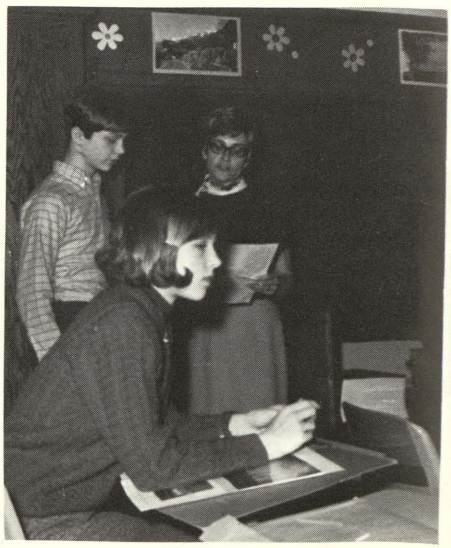


Karen Gardstrom, Linda Mitchell, and Jim Geistman busy themselves with last minute details of the S I S Boom.

Depicting school life as it is and as it will be remembered is the job of the journalism staff. They learn to pool their talents to get the best results in both the newspaper and the yearbook. Together the two types of S I S Booms record the happenings and events of each year.

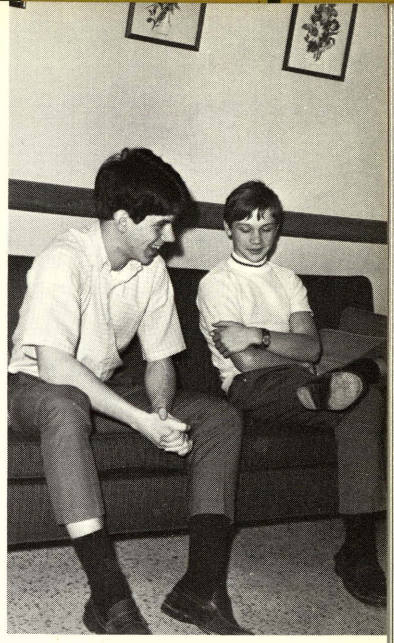
Journalists Produce Newspaper and Yearbook

Everyone has his say as Mark Currell, Carol Schultz and Ann Romaker go over some yearbook plans.



Mrs. Becker gives Chuck Gasparovic her opinion of a yearbook page while Karen Gardstrom studies her own.

Student council prexy-Vern Pococke, treasurer-Jeff Scott, secretary-Nan Ekelof, and vice president-Chuck Gasparovic, this year's student officers, make plans for future student activities.



Vern and Chuck discuss some of the different school projects.

Council Leads 'Rebel' Campaign

The student council compiled a creditable list of achievements this year, the most important being the selection of a school nickname. For the first time in its history, Southern teams will be known as the REBELS instead of "the team from South". To accomplish this, they carried on an election with a committee for each of the suggested names - Spartans, Rebels, and Saints. An assembly was held and speeches were made for and against all the names . After returning to homeroom, a vote was taken. Rebels emerged victorious.

Nan and Jeff take time out from their duties to enjoy a hit song.

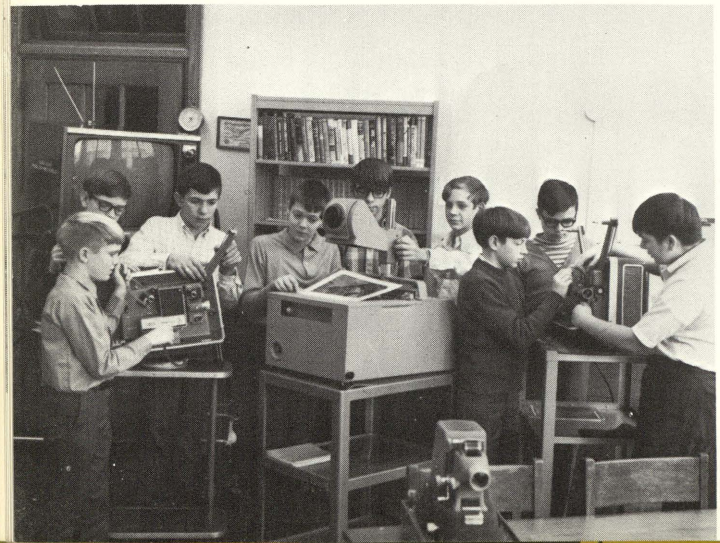
Service is a typical sign of South. The staffs provide assistance in the school whenever and wherever they can. The audio-visual, cafeteria helpers, library staff, office girls, and noontime monitors are a most vital part in the function of the school.

Staffs Play Important Roles at South

Office girls are: Patty Medler, Sally Firchau, Peggy Byrne, Lynne DeYoung, Sue Sternhagen, Sarah Snyder, Sue Wallace, Nan Ekelof, and Rebecca Castillo. They take much of the burden during the school year.

Audio Visual: Ron Kilbourne, Michael Bogar, Mark Roggmann, Pete Maurer, Robert Wheatley, Mark Babcock, Gary Kilbourne, Svens Lusars and Brad Willard. Missing: Mike O'Connor. They take a vital part in the school functions.



Staging the flag ceremonies are: Judy Grubaugh, Rodger Fetting, and Nancy Gross.

The noontime monitors are: Debra Ackerman, Cindy Cramer, Steve Walther, Robert Ott, Mike Crittenden, Steven Whitmore, and Paul Wolz. These people aid the students by giving their services to the school.

Lori Biging, Mary Boesnecker, Diane Barr and Kathy Bender supply teachers with important bulletins.

Helping out in the school cafeteria are: Karen Reinig, Darlene Smith, Bonnie Cobb, Shirley Fent, Michelle McMall, Janice Holme-Shaw, Cheryl Griffith, Diane LaBeff, Roger Favel, Lynette Garrison, Kristine Sullivan, Rochelle Ford, and Janet Steele.

Doing their best for and with the Red Cross are: Joyce McMall, Lynne DeYoung, and Karen Roditcher.

Winding up their season with two decisive wins, the eighth grade football squad vaulted into second place in the city flag league. The flagsters highlighted their year with four crashing victories over North and Central and were only upset by two losses. Brad Wilson topped the team scoring with 67 total points. Pass receivers Tom Hill and Mark Gaertner, Halfback Gary Champagne, along with Quarterback Jim Reed and Flanker Dave Hubbard also led in the teams scoring efforts.

A key play opens against Central.

Opening their season with a disappointing loss to North, South's varsity tacklers rallied with a five-game winning streak to capture the conference title. The team's offense, lead by quarterback Tom Alles, unleashed a sharp passing attack throughout the season with Brian Dustin, Mike Carter, and Mark Sommerfield at the receiving ends. A strong defensive squad blanked most of the opposition's scoring efforts with five TD interceptions for the season's mark. Backfield players Marty Blenkhorn, Tim Hall, and Norm Kolhagen were credited with the runs.

Training the team to its first outright championship in five years were Coaches Little and Schaefer. Tom Alles was elected team captain and Ben Schaefer voted most valuable player.

Team coaches Little and Schaefer survey the field.

The girls opened the 1968 season with four straight wins, but then plunged into a three game losing streak. Their whole season was like a merry-go-round, full of ups and downs. They ended the year in a slump, giving them an overall record of 11-9, and placing them third in city competition.

Custodians Keep South on the go

An essential part of any school is its custodial staff. The staff of South provides its students with heat, cleanliness and comfort, without which no school can run efficiently.

Keeping South healthy is the job of Mildred Quinnan, school nurse.

Jose Cerda, Harold Delude, head custodian Harold Strothers, Emil Sternhagen, Teresa Boyd, and Magnolia Carter are the 1969 Custodians.

Emil Sternhagen is photographed while supplying welcome heat for classrooms.

The S I S BOOM staff would like to extend a "thank you" to Mr. Guy, South's Principal and Mrs. Becker, advisor, for their guidance and assistance. A special expression of gratitude is made to Mr. Briegel of Werkema Studio and Mr. Figg of the American Yearbook Company for making it possible to combine the "Signs of South" into what they are for everyone; whether they be a new start, the end of a beginning, or three years of memories.

This year the 1969 S I S BOOM is a SIGN.

Dear Bob,
You're a good person and a good friend. I'm so glad I got to know you. I'm sorry that you won't be going to A.H.H.S. next year. I can't remember what we did in Mr. Arnold's class but I'm sure it was very much fun. Hope to see you this summer. Love, Dawn
